3 Version 4.6.1

3.1 New functions

3.1.1 Feature 1152940: Implementing the license function and update of the base to Ubuntu Core 24

Description

The implementation of the license check is completed. If a license is available and the Device Admin is active, the validity of the license is validated and the user is granted access to the terminal via SSH (8022). If the Device Admin is not active, the user is granted access to the terminal irrespective of license availability.

The Terminal app was updated to Ubuntu Core 24. If no license is available and the Device Admin is active, users are denied access to the terminal.
